LIVERPOOL IS A LOSER

But Pittsburg Had to Fight For It.

OUR BOYS OUTPLAYED THEM

The Visitors Did all They Could to Win, and Only Made It by a Fluke—some Good Playing and Hard Luck for the Local Team.

The Ceramic City demonstrated yesterday that there is still a warm spot in its heart for base ball, and it will patronize an attraction which promises amusement and good sport.

When the local team and their visitors appeared on the grounds the crowd within the enclosure numbered fully 1,500 enthusiastic persons, and they were not all there by any means. They continued to come until the crowd reached proportions which made the heart of the base ball enthusiast glad, and caused the players to plume themselves for the contest. It matters not what the Pittsburg papers say of the contest, nor will it affect public opinion here; the record stands that the visitors had their hands full yesterday, and only won the game by one of those misfortunes which occasionally falls to a winning team.

The home club went to the bat first playing as was announced in the News Review yesterday. One run was scored in the first inning while Pittsburg could get nothing better than a goose egg. The first few innings showed that the home team were playing ball, and the visitors could not touch them in fine points. Pittsburg got a run in the third, but Liverpool more than evened matters by getting two in the fourth. One of these was a home run by Carey, which almost set the grand stand wild with joy. Pittsburg continued to retire without success, and the crowd was delighted. In the second half of the fifth W. Carey made a great catch, running a long way and capturing the ball with one hand. To this time Pittsburg had been fighting for supremacy, but could not find the gait of the home team. The sixth began with Shaw out at first, Reark duplicating his action, and Carey sending a fly into the air which speedily retired the side. The visitors did not look hopeful when they came in and they felt no better when Stenzel discovered that he had struck out. He objected strongly, but the umpire would not have it that way, and Pittsburg felt better when Menafee made first because Reark fumbled the ball. Smith got a base on balls, but Weaver retired the side by a fly to right field. Young went out in the seventh, but Daniels got to first. Hobright lost because he sent a fly into right field while Mercer got a base on balls. Wagner sent the ball into a player's hands at center, and the deed was done. When Pittsburg came in Hartman flew to the pitcher, Cross struck out, and Mack met his fate at the hands of Wagner. Then Pittsburg discovered that to win something must be done, and all the tricks of the diamond were called into action. In the first half of the eighth Carey was lost at first. Shaw sent a fly to Menafee, and Reark took up the bat. He got to first, but soon met death as a runner. Gumbert flew to Reark in the last half of the inning, and Stenzel reached first on a good hit. Donovan was also fortunate enough to touch the bag while Menafee brought them home with a ball into left field. Smith succeeded in reaching first because Daniels was wild. Then Weaver made the base. This was Hartman's opportunity and he rushed the ball to the fence in left field. That brought the scores in while Cross saw that Hartman crossed the plate. Gumbert succeeded in letting Cross in while Stenzel got a good hit. Gumbert lost himself stealing third, and the game was won. In the last inning Carey flew to right, Young's fly was captured by Menafee, Daniels got a base on balls, and Hobright retired the side, and ended the game.

The contest was a pleasing exhibition of base ball, and showed that the local players can pitch and bat. Until that fatal inning when Pittsburg was struck by a streak of luck, the East Liverpool boys had played all around the visitors. The report in the Pittsburg papers is a libel, as all the people who saw the game will readily attest.

SMYTHE IS RECOVERING.

He Tells a Story Which is at Least Interesting.

Postmaster David Smythe, of East Palestine, who was so murderously assaulted last week, has so far recovered that he will be able to resume work in a few days. He tells an interesting story of the affair. He was returning home from the postoffice with a tin cash box containing the receipts of three months, $300 and $100 of his own cash, when the two strangers attacked him. This was near the Catholic church and he fought them to the doorstep of his home before they gave up the struggle. A rope tied about the box and his hand thrust through thus enabled him to hold onto the box, although his hand was almost broken to pieces by his assailants. Beside inflicting 16 gashes on the one hand, the men had pounded holes in the box with their revolvers large enough to cause the loss of a half dollar and a quarter which were found on the scene later. The box was half full of blood from the wounds and two boxes of matches in his pockets had been ignited in the struggle but the blood completely soaked them.

TAILORS IN A FIRE.

They Almost See the End of Life in Lisbon.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.
NEW LISBON, Oct. 9.—The Pritchard block on Walnut street was destroyed by fire here last night, and two tailors sleeping in the top story will remember it for years.

It is believed that the fire originated in their quarters by the overturning of a gasoline stove for the flames burned fiercely from the start, and great difficulty was experienced before they were extinguished. Deegan and Evans, the tailors, were taken out unconscious and badly burned about the head and hands. It is feared that one inhaled the flame, but both are expected to recover. The loss to the building is covered by insurance, but Roy Arter loses $700 on stock while the Wellington shoe store loses nothing.

Eastern Ohio Teachers.

Supt. E. M. Van Cleave, of Barnesville, sends out the information that the Eastern Ohio Teachers' association will meet in Marietta this year on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. Teachers will be there from as far north as Columbiana and as far west as Muskingum, and the people of the historic old town will entertain the visitors as well as they know how.

Another Story.

The Beaver story yesterday says that the horse owned by John Rinehart, of this place, died there of colic Saturday night. The story asserts that Doc Stewart, the driver, had not driven the animal a great distance, and there was no evidence that it had been over driven.

NOT AN EMPTY CELL

The Jail is Still Well Populated.

RINEHART HAS TWO CASES NOW

And Will Make Matters Interesting—Carraher Arrested Again and George Brown Wishes He Hadn't Helped Him—William Briggs and Tim Twaddle Captured—Mrs. Lutton's Trial.

The police are still busy, and five new cases were entered in mayor's court yesterday and today.

Chongeye Carraher was evidently not content with being arrested once a week, and proceeded to place himself in a position where a second pinching would be made easy. When Officer Supplee found him in the Diamond yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock he was in an hilarious condition. He was not anxious to go when the officer grabbed him, and resisted. The officer struck him a few blows with his fist and Mr. Carraher decided to go along. The patrol wagon was called and the prisoner put inside, when George Brown saw fit to interfere with proceedings. He became exceedingly obstreperous and Officer Supplee nabbed him while two prisoners instead of one rode to the jail. Brown pleaded not guilty and will have a trial, probably today. He is charged with interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty and his case will come under the state law. This means that if convicted Brown will stand a splendid show of going to the workhouse or the county jail for a few months. Carraher plead guilty as a drunk and disorderly this morning and Mayor Gilbert fined him $7.00. He gave an order for the amount and was released.

William Briggs is the name of a Steubenville man who came to East Liverpool and got drunk yesterday. He was found by Officer Wyman at the corner of Sixth and Broadway about 10:30 o'clock last night, and the patrol brought him in. He was broke and in city hall vernacular was a "dead horse," and after being compelled to clean up one of the rooms about the city building took his departure.

A couple of young men, against whom John Rinehart has preferred serious charges, are in jail today, one, Frank Stewart, was mentioned in the NEWS REVIEW yesterday. He is alleged to have driven a horse in Beaver Falls so unmercifully that it dropped dead. He has not yet succeeded in fixing up the case with Rinehart so as to avoid prosecution. The other prisoner is Bert Beaumont, of New Cumberland, with whom Rinehart had a fight between here and Rochester as detailed exclusively in this paper at the time. Rinehart was bringing him to this city to prefer a charge of horse stealing against him when he fought him and escaped. Detective Lazarus has been on his trail since that time and finally Beaumont was located in Braden, Pa., where a constable arrested him yesterday. He was brought down on the mid night train and is now in jail here. Rinehart says he will push the charge against him.

Tim Twaddle was arrested this morning for fighting with Lou Talbert on Sixth street, Saturday night. He plead guilty and Mayor Gilbert fined him $6.00, for which sum he gave an order.

The jail is still full. Mrs. Nancy Lutton, whose house was raided, being the fourth prisoner. She will have a trial as soon as the city secures some important witnesses.

AN OPEN LETTER.

Reverend Taggart Talks to the Councilmen.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW.—In view of the long list of arrests on Saturday night and Sunday, as given in your last evening's paper, I feel constrained, if you will give me the privilege, to make another appeal to our council for a prohibitory ordinance. Looking over the list, no one can escape the conviction that those arrested were made criminals largely through strong drink. Those arrested not directly for drunkenness, fell into the hands of the police for crimes to which drunkenness largely contributed. They were the direct fruits of the saloon traffic of our city. Seventeen arrests in 24 hours, and plenty of drunks besides those not arrested. Some of them just as deserving of arrest as those taken to the city jail. What, gentlemen of the council, do you think of it? Does it meet with your approval? Do you think that the saloon tax and the fines that come into the city treasury on account of this traffic, can compensate for the disgrace and dishonor that it brings to our community, and the untold misery and wretchedness that through it comes to many homes in our midst?

I wish to remind you of that, which you cannot help but know, that so long as the saloons continue in our midst we may expect a repetition of these things. They are the direct and inevitable results of the traffic. We cannot have saloons without drunkenness, and we cannot have the drunkenness that abounds in our city without disorder and crime.

Let me also remind you of your responsibility in this matter. By the laws of your state you have the power to suppress this crime producing business. Your fellow citizens have asked you for a prohibitory ordinance, and have by their votes time and again declared in favor of the prohibition of this traffic. In view of this, is it too much to say that upon you rests the responsibility not only of the continuance of the traffic, but of the crimes and disorder that it is producing? Are you ready to shoulder this responsibility at the bar of your own conscience, and at that of public opinion, as you will one day have to do it before the bar of the omniscient God?

We ask you again, in the name of the manhood and womanhood of our city, and in behalf of all the best interests of society, financial, social and moral, that you exercise the right and perform the duty that is yours, in vanishing from our borough limits this man-destroying and God-dishonoring traffic.

You received our petition to this effect some time since and placed it on file. It is there, gentlemen of the council, awaiting your further action, and will remain on file against you till you give it the treatment the importance of the subject it presents to you demands.

Were it in my power, as it is in yours, to rid our city of this criminal and crime-producing traffic, I would feel myself guilty of the evils it is producing did I not exercise that power in its prohibition.

Hoping that you will no longer delay in taking this matter into your serious consideration, and that you will act as your conscience and better judgment must prompt you to do, I remain yours for the peace and good order of society.

J. C. TAGGART, President
Anti-Saloon League.

The Last of Lija.

Farewell to Lija Harrison. Soon America will know him no more and East Liverpool will search in vain for his handsome countenance. Last evening Lija appeared at the depot with a trunk labeled "This Trunk Belongs to Lija Harrison From East Liverpool, Ohio, to Liverpool, England, To Go on the White Star Line Steamship Germania, That Sails From New York Oct. 10, 1894 Please Handle with Care Lija Harrison." Numerous lines underscoring these directions emphasized Lija's meaning. He thought it was all right but some of his friends didn't and tore the pasteboard from the trunk, consigning it to a barrel of rubbish nearby. Whether Lija is going over to demand protection is not known, but if his friends can prevent it he will not return.

Many Tons of Coal.

R. M. Haseltine, the head of the mining department in Ohio has given his annual report to Governor McKinley, and a voluminous document it is. Columbiana county stands well in the list, showing that 1,174 miners employed in 58 mines, have during the year produced 636,608 tons of coal of all kinds. Two new mines were opened and four suspended forever. Twenty-eight firms report that they used 4,211 kegs of powder in the county, each keg producing 124 tons of coal. This brings the average up, since a number of firms did not report. There were 13 accidents in the mines of the county, five being fatal.

At the Theater.

Inez Mecusker delighted the audience at the Grand last evening and proved that her excellent voice is as good as ever. Her company is made up of some clever specialists who have apparently no other purpose than to amuse those who hear them.

The new musical comedy, "A Cork Man," will be here Thursday evening. It is one of the greatest successes of the season, and contains all the old favorites of "Little Nigger." All the vocalists can sing and all the dancers can dance, producing an evening of amusement such as is seldom found in a theater.

Dead at McKeesport.

John Hester left this morning for McKeesport, Pa., to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Mary Hester, a highly respected resident, late of that city. The death occurred yesterday.

STEPPED ON THE TRACK

James McCormick Struck by a Street Car.

THE GONG WAS LOUDLY SOUNDED

But When a Friend Shouted For Him to Move He Stepped the Wrong Direction. Taken Home, but Not Badly Hurt—He Was Watching the New Telephone Poles.

James McCormick, who is known to almost all the people in the city, was knocked down by a car at Fourth and Washington streets this morning.

The gentleman was standing near the track watching the workmen on the new telephone line raise a pole. So hazardous seemed the risk which some of the men took without a second thought that the squire became so absorbed in his task that he did not notice a street car coming up the hill. A friend who noticed the danger shouted for him to look out, and thinking that he was too near the pole he moved away from it, and in front of the car. Motorman Pittinger was sounding the gong loudly, but was not heard and Mr. McCormick was struck by the corner of the car. Luckily he was thrown to the side of the track, and the car was stopped. A number of persons saw the accident, and hastened to the assistance of the unfortunate man. He was picked up, and a hasty examination showed that he was not seriously hurt, although he seemed to be bruised about the back and shoulders. McCormick was dazed, but persisted that he was all right, and could walk home. He was weak, however, and aided by Postmaster Simms and a number of friends, was taken to the postoffice. After a short time he had recovered sufficiently to be taken home.

Motorman Pittinger was evidently not to blame for the accident, as the car was going at a slow rate of speed, and he believed the track would be cleared by the sound of the gong.

COMMANDER.

He All in His Mind.

Some individual in the city has written to the Focus, Coney's organ in Canton, giving a garbled, exaggerated account of the Coney meetings here. He says that 4,000 people heard the "general" Saturday evening, and 5,000 listened to him the next evening, and then attempts to cover the political field here with statements containing a proportionate amount of truth. Perhaps the followers of Coney who write for the press would gain more respect if they realized that there is such an institution as truth.

The Eastern Star in Ashtabula.

Mrs. J. T. King left yesterday afternoon for Ashtabula, where she will attend the state meeting of the Eastern Star, the organization made up of ladies having some male member of their immediate family a Mason. Mrs. Fred Croxall and Mrs. Robert Hill left today on the same mission. Mrs. Croxall being the delegate from the local lodge, and the other ladies attending as visitors.

No Waiting Time.

The men employed on the long distance telephone line were planting poles on Fourth street today, making good progress in their journey down the river. The men who string the wire have not yet arrived, but when they come there will be no waiting time. As soon as the wires reach this place communication will be opened with Pittsburg.

Hole Wants to Debate.

J. M. Hole, the individual who thinks he is running for congress on an independent platform, is anxious to have R. W. Taylor whip him in debate as badly as he will whip him at the polls. The general impression prevails that Mr. Taylor will ignore the challenge and proceed in the even tenor of his way.

Gone to Missouri.

John Thompson, who resides a few miles north of this city, and Clark Thompson, father of Mrs. Monroe Patterson, of Smith's Ferry, left this morning for St. Joe, Mo., where they will spend a few months.

—Mrs. J. R. Long, of Pittsburg, is calling on friends in this city.

REPUBLICAN PENSIONS.

When the Democratic press and platform are short of campaign matter, editors and orators have an amusing custom of turning to the so called pension policy of the party; and in homely words of softest persuasion, tell the veterans how they love the boys who were the blue and make liberal promises of valuable reward should they be elevated to office. While they talk and argue, and many a soldier listens to their siren song, a record of hatred and venom, of opposition and negation, can be found for the searching among the records in Washington.

In 1878 a bill repealing all limitations of time in which applications for arrears in pensions should be made, was passed by the house. Not a Republican voted against it, but 61 Democrats are recorded as saying nay. When the law increasing the pension of widows from $8 to $12 came up for consideration, 118 Republicans favored it and 66 Democrats voted against it, not a Republican voting with the southern brigadiers. The amendment bill was passed in 1886 because 91 Republicans desired to see the brave boys rewarded and only 51 Democrats would not have government money expended in that way. Not a Republican opposed the disability bill, but 58 Democrats stood out against it. When it reached the senate the party who had fought the soldiers when they were in the field fighting the enemy, did their best to defeat the measure. When the house of representatives considered the dependent pension bill in the Forty-Ninth congress, every Republican present favored the movement, while the Democrats mustered all their forces and succeeded in securing 76 votes in opposition. President Cleveland vetoed the bill, and an effort was made to pass it in spite of his enmity to the old soldier, but his party counted 125 nays when the vote was taken. Then Tom Reed was made speaker of the house, more Republicans were elected to office, and the measure was again introduced. This time the Democrats fought with vigor, but the firm policy of the Maine statesman compelled a vote and it was passed, the senate concurring. President Harrison approved the measure and it became a law, but not until the Democrats had shown that their policy was against pensioning the men who preserved the nation. There are many other bills for pensions which the Democrats as a party in congress opposed, and a summing up of fourteen votes on as many different measures shows that not a Republican opposed them, while 648 Democratic votes are recorded against them. From the time Abraham Lincoln was in office Grover Cleveland was the only man to veto a pension law with the exception of President Grant, who discovered individual cases to the number of five and turned them down. Cleveland showed his love for the soldier by refusing to sign 524 pension laws, which came for his approval.

Is it just that the Democratic party, imbued with any sentiment but love for the union veterans, should ask them under the guise of friendship to support men who will legislate against their interests?

GIANTS WIN THE CUP.

The Temple Cup Series Lost by Baltimore. Gift to Van Halteren.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Temple cup has been won by the Giants, by winning the fourth game from Baltimore. It is said that the receipts for the four games will amount to about $25,000. Of this the Giants will get $16,000. As the expenses are not heavy each of the 16 New York players will receive as his share nearly $1,000. The Baltimoreans will have about $9,000 to divide up amongst 14 players after their expenses are paid.

There were 12,000 people present at the closing game, and there was the enthusiasm which has marked each game. Van Halteren looked the picture of happiness in the second inning when Digby Bell walked out to the home plate and in behalf of the center-fielder's host of friends, presented him with a silver bat of regulation size. Van responded with a two bagger. In the sixth inning Van met with an accident, which caused him to retire from the game. He collided with Jennings while trying to steal second base and was knocked unconscious, when he recovered his senses appeared broken, but later it was found to be only an abrasion. Murphy took his place in center-field. Jennings was seriously cut on the forehead and retired in favor of Bonner. Only five safe hits were made off Meekin who pitched great ball. They bunched two in the second inning but failed to score. In the last four innings they did not connect successfully with his curves even once. On account of darkness hostilities were ended at the eighth inning. A stop by Davis was one of the finest ever seen on a field. Score:

NEW YORK.....1 0 1 0 5 1 3 0-16 20
BALTIMORE.....2 0 1 0 0 0 0 0-3 5

MOONSHINERS IN IOWA

They Fatally Wound a U. S. Deputy Marshal.

THEY MASKED AND HID IN AN ALLEY

He Refuse to Give Up One of the Gang He Had Captured—They Put One Hundred Shots Into His Back and Escaped. Formerly Kentuckians.

ALBION, Ia., Oct. 9.—E. D. Wray, deputy United States marshal, has been fatally shot here by moonshiners. Wray had arrested Gabe Johnson and was taking him to a train bound for Council Bluffs. When near the depot a gang of masked men to which Johnson belonged sprang out from an alley and ordered Wray to release his prisoner. Johnson started to run and Wray grabbed him. Then the assassins opened fire on Wray with shot-guns, putting 100 shots into his back and all escaped.

The men recently came to this country from Kentucky and it is believed ran an illicit still in the wild country here. They will be lynched if captured.

A Young Girl Missing. COLLEGE CORNER, O., Oct. 9.—The sudden disappearance of Miss Edie Lackey, daughter of William Lackey, a liveman of this place, has caused no end of excitement and talk in all society circles. Miss Lackey is a school-girl, 14 years of age, well developed and exceptionally good looking. She was seen about town between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock at night with girl friends. Some time after this she went home, wrote a note bidding the family an affectionate goodbye, stating that she had gone to parts unknown, but assigned no reason for the strange departure. It is supposed that she took the 10:19 train going west, but all efforts by her parents and friends to find any trace of her have proved of no avail.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—The respite of James N. Hill, the Pittsburgh murderer under sentence of death, will expire on Oct. 16, and it is understood that Governor Pattison will take final action in the case next Thursday. He had burrowed under the stack, where he slept at night. At daybreak he would emerge and go to the woods, where he would remain all day. He subsisted upon vegetables taken from gardens in the neighborhood. He invariably refused to answer any questions asked him, and fled like a deer at the approach of any human beings. As he committed no serious depredations, he was not molested until it was suggested that he might be Charles King, the nutcase, who recently escaped from the Columbus asylum. BLIND TIGERS MUST GO

South Carolina's Liquor Law
Declared Constitutional.

TILLMAN TO REOPEN HIS WARFARE

On Illegal Liquor Selling—The Saloon
Men Expect to Get Some Kind of a
Case Into the United States Supreme Court For Decision.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 9.—The decision of the supreme court in the dispensary cases has been filed. Justices Pope and Gary declare the law constitutional, while Chief Justice McIVER dissents. Justice Gary argues generally that the regulation of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor comes within the police power of the state, and that the dispensary is such a regulation of the traffic, that there is no inherent right in any one to sell liquor, and that being the case, the state has a right to prohibit the sale altogether or to so control it as it deems best for the general welfare. Justice Pope assents to this finding, and the case is a long legal dissertation on the constitutionality of the act.

Chief Justice McIVER dissents and reiterates generally the position taken by him when the law was declared unconstitutional last spring.

The effect of the decision will be that Governor Tillman will now begin an active warfare against "blind tigers," which have been flourishing without much molestation since the act was declared unconstitutional. What the saloon men will do is problematical. They have never had any concern of action in fighting the law in the courts, but it is more than likely that some kind of a case will be gotten up which will finally bring the question into the supreme court of the United States.

Attacked by Italian Brigands.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The Chateau St. Pierre des Portes du Hiver, an ancient residence that is usually rented by foreign visitors to the Riviera, was the scene of a desperate attack of Italian brigands. The attacking party attempted to carry the place by assault, using scaling ladders in their efforts to reach the interior of the building. There were a number of servants in the house, who, badly frightened by the boldness of the attack, made a desperate resistance and succeeded in holding the brigands outside the walls. While the fight was being waged a number of gendarmes approached the place, whereupon the brigands fled.

BONDS REPORTED MISSING.

Belief That It Is an Old Story Retamped on Wall Street.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—A report was circulated in Wall street that the reorganization committee of the Chicago and Northern Pacific Railroad company had discovered that $2,500,000 of the company's bonds have disappeared. It is believed that this is an old story retamped.

The facts are that the bonds alluded to are those which are in question in the settlement of accounts between the receivers of the Chicago and Northern Pacific Railroad company and the receivers of the Northern Pacific railroad. The bonds are held as collateral, and both reorganization committees know who held them. The litigation in regard to the bonds is still in progress, and to a certain extent is a factor in delaying the reorganization of both roads.

Have Met Every Week.

Health Officer King says there is a mistake in the objection of Taxpayer in the NEWS REVIEW yesterday, for not a month has passed since its organization that the board of health has not convened for the transaction of business. Several efforts have been made to meet this month, and a sufficient number have been present during the evenings, but they were not all there at one time. Officer King is now endeavoring to discover when all can be present so that a meeting can be held this week.

There is no medicine so often needed to every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache can be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed much less time than when medicine has been used. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50-cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Mrs. Edwards Will Be Present.

All the ladies of the Woman's Relief corps are earnestly requested to meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, as Mrs. Edwards, of Salem, will be present.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy that he has used in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at Potts drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Several enjoyable dances were held in the city last evening and others are announced for tonight.

B. Abrams, who worked for some time with Hyman Browarsky, shipped his household goods to 133 Ludlow street, New York, today.

Mrs. Morgan has shipped her household goods to Cleveland, where she will make her home. The family resided for some years in this city.

The Knights of the Maccabees have changed their place of meeting to their former rooms in Junior Mechanics hall, and will hold their regular session as usual Friday night.

The two tramps who were arrested Saturday night for fighting were given work about the city hall yesterday, and after they had thoroughly cleansed the city building they were allowed to depart in peace.

Miss Nellie Simms returned yesterday from Wilmont, where she accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tissot to the funeral of their child. Mr. and Mrs. Tissot will not return until tomorrow or Thursday.

John C. Owens was so unfortunate a few days ago as to lose a valuable fox terrier and four pups of the same breed. Two other fox terriers belonging to him managed to get among them, and had soon killed the entire five.

Messrs. Robert and John Hall left this morning for Claysville, Pa., where they will attend the reunion of the regiment in which they served during the war. Both the gentlemen were members of the One Hundred and Fortieth Pennsylvania Infantry.

Invitations have been issued for the first annual banquet of the "Defenses Agricola" club, or in plain English, the Weary Farmers' club. The banquet will be held in Junior Mechanics hall on Wednesday, Oct. 16, and will no doubt be a unique and interesting affair.

The water works people have finished laying the service pipes on Third street as far as Washington street and are now working toward Market. Meanwhile Contractor Ryan is proving himself a hustler in grading and will soon be ready to gravel.

The case of Cora and Laura Wilson versus D. G. Thomas for $10 wages, was dismissed in Squire Ross' court yesterday because of the claim of J. G. Reese as Thomas' partner. Whether suit will be brought in another form is not known.

Samuel Bennett secured judgment in Squire Travis' court yesterday afternoon for $7 against Homer Laughlin. Bennett claimed the amount was due him for wages for building a coal house on the property owned by Mr. Laughlin near the freight depot. The defendant failed to appear in court.

Two well known veterans are said to have indulged in a fist fight in an uptown furniture store the other day and a friend had to separate them before they ceased hostilities. One is an ardent Democrat and the other an equally faithful Republican and it is supposed that politics brought on the row.

A raft of lumber arrived today from Pittsburg for the building of breakers for the Jutte company at the foot of Market street. Eight men accompanied the raft, arriving at Smith's Ferry last night. They started from Pittsburg on Friday morning last, but the progress was impeded by sandbars, which the low water left prominent.

The idea of discontinuing the patrol which was agitated in council some time ago is now probably the farthest thing from the minds of the city legislators. The excellent work done by Patrolman Meador Saturday night proved the value of the wagon and its necessity at all times. The patrol department is surely paying expenses.

Alfred Obney yesterday afternoon had a writ of attachment issued in Squire Travis' court against Contractor J. C. Lutton attaching a quantity of stone on Avondale street where Lutton has been grading. Constable Albright levied on the stone. Obney claims $50.15 wages and the case will be tried at 8 o'clock Thursday morning at city hall.

The horses driven by two Italians, whose place of business is in the Diamond, scared at a street car this morning, just as the east end of the power house was reached, and one of the animals broke its harness and seemed ready to plunge over the hill. One Italian had alighted, but seemed afraid to go near the frightened team, while the other was so badly scared that he leaped from the wagon and ran. The horses were finally unhitched and a catastrophe averted.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian association are making extensive arrangements for the fair to be given in the rink during the month of November. The best talent in this section will be in attendance. The ladies' drill brigade, composed of members of different churches, will be a special feature. The ladies are determined to wipe out their share of the debt of the Young Men's Christian association.

NEWS FROM LISBON.

The Weary Grind of the County Courts Goes Merrily On.

New Lisbon, Oct. 8.—Kate S. Armstrong, of Wellsville, is today defendant in two damage suits of $1,000 each, Peter Wilson being the plaintiff to one and Jennie Wathey in another. Malignant intention to injure their character is the charge in each petition, Peter Wilson stating that last May in the presence of numerous persons she accused him of having stolen from George Aten boards, which it cost him $14 to settle, and on another occasion exclaiming as he passed "there goes that old thief now, looking around to see what he can steal and all he has he got dishonestly." Kate's offense against the other plaintiff is that she accused her of being illegitimate, stating that she could prove it, which she is now asked in court to do. Previous to this time these parties laid claim to an untarnished reputation until brought into public disgrace and scandal by this defendant. P. M. Smith is the attorney.

The third assignment of cases for trial next week was made today and the following cases set for hearing:

Monday, Oct. 15—No. 262, James B. Hassen versus David Felgar; No. 51, A. J. Cowan and others versus Abel Lodge and others.

Tuesday, Oct. 16—No. 178, Samuel B. Carringer versus John M. Aten and others; No. 352, S. Holley versus J. B. Roehy; No. 440, L. W. Carmen versus W. E. Baird and others.

Wednesday, Oct. 17—No. 482, The C. W. Hill company versus Seanor Bros.; No. 586, Margaret O'Rourke versus Hyman Browarsky.

Thursday, Oct. 18—No. 621, Jacob Myers versus W. J. Adam; No. 668, Henry Chambers versus Cyrus Caldwell; No. 685, Adam Bros. versus Catharine Mather.

Friday, Oct. 19—No. 640, Susan Crawford versus John E. Crawford; No. 722, Childs, Goff & Co., versus John C. Hepner.

A correspondent from this place a few days ago stating a suit just filed against John Y. Williams by Ex-convict John Eells, sent from this city to the Ohio penitentiary for life 16 years ago, was slightly mixed in his statements. The case was begun in this court four years ago, Eells asking judgment against Williams for $400 which he had given him in 1888 to secure for him a pardon from the board of pardons. This, Williams, who was at that time a member of the legislature, failed to do within the specified time, 120 days. Eells was pardoned by some means shortly after, and is now in the jail at Carrollton awaiting trial on a charge of fighting at the Carrollton fair a few weeks ago. This case will be tried tomorrow.

Before admitting to probate the will of Maggie Little, late of Hanover township, which was presented this morning, a commission with the will annexed was issued to Petoskey, Mich., to take the deposition of Daniel Hastings one of the subscribing witnesses.

The proceedings and sale of the real estate in the case of Anthony Rice assignee versus Thomas Fleming and others was filed and confirmed and a deed ordered made to the purchaser, Mary K. Fleming. Distribution of the proceeds was also made. Application for the order and direction of the court was made in relation to the payment from the funds in his hands of a chattel mortgage and claim of Harvey D. Scott. This claim was found by the court to be the first lien on the property and was ordered paid.

The return of the private sale in the estate of the late Jane Willard, of Franklin township, was filed and affirmed. The first account of J. Eatin Hoffer and others executors of Samuel Eatin's estate and the first and final account of Samuel U. McCullough executor of William G. Murdock's estate were filed and will be heard November 9.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.
